

Cordial Welcome Given President Hascall Of Lions International; Progressive Thinking Stressed

Lions from Various Alberta Clubs Attend Complimentary Luncheon

For the first time in the history of service clubs in Lethbridge an international president visited the city on Wednesday when Vincent O. Hascall of Omaha, Nebraska, international president of Lions club, was honor guest at the local Lions club luncheon at the Marquis hotel.

"Riches of the community are in the thinking of the people," said the international president in a forward-looking address given at the completion of the luncheon which was attended by close to 100 men in service clubs are becoming aristocrats, he said, and gave as his description of an aristocrat one who rises above the ordinary things of life, one above one's environment, learning to see the finer things in the community and one who thinks for oneself.

Daily Mail For Waterton Park This Summer

An announcement is made by Brig-General J. S. Stewart, M.P., from Ottawa that a daily mail service is to be put into effect to Waterton Lakes National Park for the months of July and August.

At the conclusion of his address the international president presented key memberships to Lions Dick Verwood, Frank O'Sullivan and Phil Baker and to Dr. E. V. Spackman he presented the Master Key and Hat of the international club.

Senator W. A. Buchanan extended greetings to the international lions president, passing the value of service club to the community and their contribution in fostering friendship and understanding between peoples, as for example, Canada and United States, and toward the establishment of an ideal in policies for the continent.

Today's challenge is to the individual, said Mayor Elton, addressing the gathering. "What are you doing to help?" is the challenge to every individual.

Herman Linder To Ride Here

Champion Cowboy Passing Up Salt Lake Show to Enter Lethbridge Stampede HERMAN LINDER OF CARDSTON IN ACTION

Holding the championship for "Best All Round Champion Cowboy in North America," southern Alberta's Herman Linder of Cardston, will be one of the competitors at the Lethbridge stampede, July 22, 23 and 24 in conjunction with the golden jubilee celebration and exhibition.

He is passing up the stampede at Salt Lake City to do so and says he enjoys the rodeos in Alberta better than in any other place. Herman says he has no doubts about there being a large entry of cowboys from all parts of the States as well as Canada for the Lethbridge rodeo owing, not only to the fine purses offered, but also to the fact that Guy Weadick is managing the affair.

Southern Alberta's champion, who had the misfortune to have a saw cut through the bone of his knuckle on the first finger of his left hand, has not been on a bucking horse since November but expects to be in condition and will ride in smaller rodeos prior to entering both Calgary and Lethbridge. The report from New York rodeo last summer that he had broken his arm was false, Herman says, and states that it was his leg that was hurt but it was only a temporary injury.

Herman will bring his own two horses with him to the local stampede, Tim and Tony, one to be used for decorating steers and one for roping. They will be transported in a trailer. Bucking, roping and steer decorating entrants will have Linder as a contestant. He does not enter the stampede with the expectation of winning but for the enjoyment of the game and is keenly looking forward to

"Sequoia" Is Thrilling Film

Picture Coming to Capitol Friday and Saturday Gripping

For those who like Waterton National Park for its wild animal life the picture "Sequoia," showing at the Capitol on Friday and Saturday will have a tremendous appeal. For "Sequoia" was filmed in the Sequoia National Park in California, and two of the central figures are a mountain lion and a deer.

Camoramen in this picture must have done a heroic task, for they stalked herds of deer hundreds of miles in order to get the shots which grip you on the silver screen. The baby puma or mountain lion that grows up with the Toni Martin, Jean Parker, family in the park. The deer which became friends with the lion. The poachers. The fight in which the deer does a rattle to death just as it is about to strike a child.

The writer saw a preview of the picture some weeks ago. It's a gripping tale, featured by a splendid photography in Nature's own setting. The story is taken from "Malibu," written by the famous naturalist, Vance Hayt. Russell

Meet Minister On Southern Road Projects

James S. Ross, secretary of the Lethbridge Board of Trade, Mayor D. H. Elton, R. W. Greenway and G. N. Houston journeyed to Taber Thursday to interview Hon. J. J. MacLellan, M.L.A., minister of public works, in connection with proposed new gravelled highways in the southwest district tributary to Lethbridge.

Hardie is the forest ranger in the picture and plays opposite Jean Parker. It's a film that is different because it is close to Nature.

City Cadets Place First

Win Strathcona and Traunweiser Trophies in Competitions

Fresh honors have come to the Lethbridge Collegiate Cadet Corps in charge of Lieut. George McKillop. Announcement has just been made from military district No. 13 that the Strathcona trophy was awarded to the Lethbridge team consisted of Jack Westbrook, John Horne, Jim McNally and Ross Thompson. Their score was 99 per cent, the second team, Rediff, obtaining 83 per cent.
