

was her first time in Ponoka," her first CFR in November.
 r for her. I was really surprise it's a small arena."

ere is to see in a big pen like d all she wants to do is turn. ur first run in Ponoka was in t for the tight turnaround in n, and Revy handled that as les, as Muldoon admits Revy tle more relaxed now," como hard with her. We were in hours at home before going nt possible."

doesn't have to worry about d choose and go to a few less." n travel stress. She works full-ator for the town of Hinton. ng spell the next month, and ing to rodeos then.

r Ponoka until three am, and till pretty pumped about her ort published the top money nd I was fifth on the list, and Christmas started a little early e clicked the cash machine at ucked off in the Showdown erage and the Finals.

n the only rainy, cold day of the nthusiasm one bit, since he was o the night before. Pozzobon equipment adjustment.

Lee Rombough - 2014 Ponoka Stampede
 photo by Shellie Scott

This year's Ponoka Stampede fans also enjoyed seeing Nicole Briggs (Miss Rodeo Canada) and Katy Lucas (Miss Ponoka Stampede) demonstrate their cowgirl prowess as the pair easily picked up the head and heels on a team roping steer - Lucas on the heading side and Briggs on the heels.

photo by Pauline Briggs

Nicole Briggs (Miss Rodeo Canada) & Katy Lucas (Miss Ponoka Stampede)
 2014 Ponoka Stampede photo by Mike Copeman